HOW IT WORKS

A qualified network, accessible through the Chambers

01

Request from Italy

A professional identifies the country where they need expertise or local support.

02

Connection through the Chamber

The reference Chamber provides the list of AIPA members active in that market.

03

Contact and collaboration

The Italian professional can identify qualified counterparts and open a dialogue.

The Chambers' role helps make the network recognisable and connected to local markets.

A SHARED PLATFORM

Content and opportunities for businesses

Professionals share

- Webinars and presentations
- Legal, tax and customs insights
- Newsletters and updates from their firms

The Chambers publish

- Country briefings and webinars
- Trade fairs and business missions
- Projects and initiatives for Italian businesses

Professionals will be able to share with their client's information on projects, initiatives and opportunities in Asia-Pacific markets.

The expected result: an operational link between professional expertise, the institutional network and the international growth of businesses.

An ecosystem that creates value over time

CHAMBERS OF COMMERCE

Territorial relations, market knowledge and the spread of opportunities.

PROFESSIONALS

Specialist expertise, professional development and international collaborations.

BUSINESSES

Access to information and counterparts to support expansion across APAC.

AIPA aims to turn a network of relationships into an ongoing tool to support internationalisation.

The Rome Forum is the starting point; the platform is the tool to carry the work forward all year round.
