Company Information

Company Name: Snam China (Branch of SNAM Holding, Italy)

Company Description (100 words):

SNAM China

Snam is the Europe's largest leading gas utility. It has been building and managing sustainable and technologically advanced infrastructure guaranteeing energy security for almost 80 years. Snam operates in Italy and, through subsidiaries, in Albania, Austria, France, Greece and the United Kingdom, acting as the most involved in projects for the creation of the Energy Union.

Snam's business model is based on sustainable growth, transparency, nurturing talent, and development of local areas by constantly listening to and exchanging dialogues with local communities, also thanks to the social initiatives of the Snam Foundation.

Through the Snamtec project, launched in 2018 and increased in the 2019-2023 Plan, Snam has given a great boost to investments for energy transition, focused on technology initiatives, innovation and R&D supporting large national and international networks and green economy businesses, like sustainable mobility, renewable gas, hydrogen and energy efficiency.

Snam China is the Chinese branch of the large European multinational. The local company will be a lean environment with frequent interactions with the Headquarter.
